Notice is hereby given that if owners of slaves in the several Government Islands had friendly and diplomatic relations, it is especially pleasing to me to know now, at the commencement of my reign, that the most amicable relations exist between your respective Governments and my own, and that I have every reason to hope for a continuance of the kindly interest entertained towards myself, my Government, and people, which has been so happily referred to.

It is my wish to foster and encourage Agriculture and Commerce, and to establish at the mouth of foreign rivers, having business interests throughout the group, as well as in the minds of my native subjects, such a degree of confidence in the stability and security of my Government as will give encouragement to every honest and useful enterprise; and to this end, Gentlemen, I shall in a great degree rely in the future, as my predecessors have in the past, upon the good will and moral support of the enlightened and influential nations of which you are the respective Representatives.

His Majesty's Birthday.

Friday the 28th, being the anniversary of the birth of His Majesty, the King, will be observed as a holiday by the closing of the public offices, and we have no doubt, by the general cessation of business.

Although but little preparation has been made to celebrate the day by public and noisy manifestations, still, we are sure that every subject of the King will congratulate him upon the attainment of another birthday in full health, and wish him many returns.

The only public parade which we hear of being arranged for that day, is that of the Honolulu Fire Department which will turn out in dress parade in full strength. The following is the programme of the procession:

The Queen Emma Lodge of Good Temples will give a grand subscription Ball in the evening, at the Hawaii Hotel. This body, composed principally of Hawaiians, is an honor to the country. The quiet and well directed zeal of its members in the cause of temperance, is having an effect which is strongly felt in the community, and one which has led to great good already, and promises, as it strengthens in numbers and widens its influence, to be felt in a greater degree for the benefit of the people.

Audience at Iolani Palace.

His Majesty the King gave audience on Wednesday, the 2d inst., to the Diplomatic and Consular Corps, and to Admiral Pennock and the Captains and officers of the national vessels in port, at Iolani Palace. His Majesty was attended on the occasion by their Excellencies the Cabinet Ministers, the Governors of the various Islands, the Chamberlain and Officers of the Staff.

At 1 o'clock His Excellency H. A. Peirce, Minister Resident of the United States, M. Le Moineyer, Commissioner and Consul for France, Theo. H. Davies, Esq., H. B. M.'s Acting Commissioner and Consul General, and M. Pernet, Chancellor of the French Legion, were presented to His Majesty. His Excellency the Minister Resident of the United States, on behalf of the Diplomatic Corps, addressed His Majesty as follows:

Your Majesties, On behalf of the members of the Diplomatic Corps, as well as for myself, it becomes my pleasing duty to tender sincere and respectful congratulations on your accession to the Hawaiian Throne.

It affords me great satisfaction to assure Your Majesty of the kind sentiments of the Government of the United States towards the Government and people of these Islands, and I trust that these friendly sentiments may steadily increase, and be manifested in their beneficial influence upon the people and economy of the two nations.

As an evidence of the friendly interest of my Government towards that over which Your Majesty has been called to preside, it is my pleasing duty to state that the Government of the United States having been informed that His late Majesty Kamahameha V. purposed visiting Europe, and to that end would pass through the territory of the United States, at once directed me to place my flagship, the California, at the disposition of His Majesty and Suite, and to convey him, with the honor due to his high rank, to San Francisco, where preparations were to be made to receive and to convey him to such of our Atlantic ports as might be pleased to select as his point of departure for the Continent of Europe. I was on the point of sailing from San Francisco to accomplish this pleasing duty, when the small steamer from Honolulu brought the news of the sudden death of His Majesty, which unlocked for event delayed the Government of the United States of the opportunity of extending an act of courtesy to your Government, and myself of the high honor of being the instrument of carrying out that purpose.

God grant to Your Majesty a long and prosperous reign.

His Majesty was pleased to reply as follows:

Yours Excellency. - The friendly sentiments that you have expressed on behalf of yourself and your colleagues of the Diplomatic Corps are very gratious to me. Representing as you do, Gentlemen, the three great Powers with which my Government has long had friendly and diplomatic relations, it is especially pleasing to me to know now, at the commencement of my reign, that the most amicable relations exist between your respective Governments and my own, and that I have every reason to hope for a continuance of the kindly interest entertained towards myself, my Government, and people, which has been so happily referred to.

His Majesty the King, on Monday, paid a visit to the United States steam frigate California, attended by his Chamberlain and Staff, His Honor the Chancellor of the Kingdom, and their Excellencies the Ministers of Foreign Relations, Interior and Finance, and His Excellency the Governor of Oahu and Staff.

We beg to express our hope that the reign of Your Majesty may long and prosperous.

His Majesty made the following reply:

Gentlemen: It gives me pleasure to receive your congratulations; and I am satisfied that you have not only a friendly regard for myself, but that you are desirous for the promotion of all the material and social interests of my Kingdom, as well as the interests of foreign commerce which you more directly represent.

Recognizing the important geographical position of Your Majesty's Kingdom in its relation to the interests they represent, the Consular Corps facilitate themselves in the hope that, in their endeavor to foster and promote commercial intercourse with the countries whose flags they have the honor to represent, they will, as heretofore, enjoy the confidence and co-operation of Your Majesty's Government.

We beg to express our hope that the reign of Your Majesty may long and prosperous.

His Majesty made the following reply:

Gentlemen: It gives me pleasure to receive your congratulations; and I am satisfied that you have not only a friendly regard for myself, but that you are desirous for the promotion of all the material and social interests of my Kingdom, as well as the interests of foreign commerce which you more directly represent.

An elegant collation was spread in the cabin of the California, of which His Majesty partook.

After remaining on board for a couple of hours His Majesty and suite returned on shore, the yards of the national vessels in port being manned, and Royal Salutes fired on his departure.

Capt. J. P. C. de Kraft, commanding U. S. S. California; Capt. A. G. Clary, commanding U. S. S. Benicia; Lieutenant Commanders W. R. Hoff and W. H. Whitling; Lieutenant E. L. Amory; Paymaster Edwin Putnam; H. S. Pitkin, Past Assistant Surgeon; Samuel Ames, Master; J. C. Barrett, Assistant Paymaster, and John Walton Ross, Assistant Surgeon.

Dear Admiral Pennock, after the presentation of the officers of the ships, made the following address to His Majesty:

May it please Your Majesty: It is with great pleasure that I avail myself of this occasion to convey to Your Majesty my sincere congratulations upon your happy accession to the Throne of the Hawaiian Islands.

It affords me great satisfaction to assure Your Majesty of the kind sentiments of the Government of the United States towards the Government and people of these Islands, and I trust that these friendly sentiments may steadily increase, and be manifested in their beneficial influence upon the people and economy of the two nations.

As an evidence of the friendly interest of my Government towards that over which Your Majesty has been called to preside, it is my pleasure to state that the Government of the United States having been informed that His late Majesty Kamahameha V. purposed visiting Europe, and to that end would pass through the territory of the United States, at once directed me to place my flagship, the California, at the disposition of His Majesty and Suite, and to convey him, with the honor due to his high rank, to San Francisco, where preparations were to be made to receive and to convey him to such of our Atlantic ports as might be pleased to select as his point of departure for the Continent of Europe. God grant to Your Majesty a long and happy reign.

His Majesty was pleased to reply as follows:

Yours Excellency. - On behalf of the members of the Diplomatic Corps, as well as for myself, it becomes my pleasing duty to tender sincere and respectful congratulations on your accession to the Hawaiian Throne.

I do so with the more confidence in view of the assurance contained in Your Majesty's speech to the Legislatives, indicating that the wise and liberal policy pursued by your predecessors towards foreigners within your dominions will be continued by Your Majesty's Government, and moreover, that a generous encouragement is to be given to Commerce and Agriculture.

These, with the stability of Your Majesty's Throne, as happily secured by the first few days
